

VICTORIES AT LAST DITCH

Three Major League Contests Decided in 9th-Inning Yesterday

BROOKLYN MADE
FOUR RUNS IN 9TH

And Therefore Wiped Out
Pittsburgh's Lead of Three Runs

New York, July 12.—Ninth inning victories marked three major league contests yesterday, while two other games were decided during eighth, which happened to be the final inning for the winning team. In contrast the Boston Americans, who staged a ninth inning rally against Detroit in the second game of a double header, won the first contest in the opening inning.

The Brooklyn Nationals were three runs behind Pittsburgh with two out and the bases empty when the Super-hus came through with hits for four runs in the ninth. The St. Louis Americans scored their winning run against Washington with two out in the ninth. The Philadelphia Nationals tallied their needed runs in the eighth, in their game with St. Louis when rain washed away a tying run scored by the Cardinals in the ninth. The Boston Nationals also tallied the winning runs over Cincinnati in the eighth and did not go to bat in the ninth as the Reds failed to score.

Babe Ruth accomplished the feat of hitting a home run in every American league park this year when he smashed out his 32d homer in Chicago. Last year the Yankee slugger took until Aug. 14 to make the round, finishing it in Washington, while in 1919 it was his final home run of the season on Sept. 27, also at Washington, that did the trick.

Nearly half of the putouts in the Cincinnati-Boston game were credited to outfielders, the Braves catching 14 flies and the Reds 10. Roush of Cincinnati caught seven; Powell of Boston six and Nicholson of Boston five. Outfielder Wrightson of the Philadelphia Nationals made three errors. The major record for an outfielder is five.

KELLEHER DAY IN BOSTON.

Fans Had Purse of $500 Ready for Brookline Boy.

Boston, July 12.—This day at the Braves' field was set apart to honor Jack Kelleher, a former Brookline high athlete, who came as utility infielder of the Chicago Cubs for the opening of a five-game series between Boston and Chicago. A purse of $500 in gold was among several gifts from admiring townsmen that awaited him.

Tom Taggart's Early Days as Lunch Counter Man.

A man in a pepper and salt spring suit with a fashionable hat set well back on his head, and a closely cropped mustache, was perched on a stool at the Union station lunch counter. While he ate a cereal he kept up conversation with the waiter.

"I used to work in this place," said the pepper and salt spring suit.

"So?" remarked the waiter in a voice that sounded as if he thought the pepper and salt suit was kidding.

"Here a long time," continued the Spring suit. "The first work I did here was to slice sandwiches. A lot of the old-timers used to come in here to eat Remember Johnny Baggs?"

The waiter said he had never heard of Johnny Baggs.

"He was one of the old-time conductors on the B&O line. Of course, you are too young. That was great old crowd. Johnny Baggs, Charley Henderson, Bob Craig, John Harper, Lige Love, Cap Boughter, Mason Wells. O, I knew a lot of them. How do you like your job, son?"

"Pretty good."

"That's right. Always like your job. When you do that you will get along all right." The pepper and salt suit piled more advice and told a lot of railroad stories. When he got up he left a substantial tip in the bowl that had contained the cereal.

"Who was that guy?" asked the waiter, as the pepper and salt suit passed through the doorway.

"Hum—funny you don't know him—that's Tom Taggart."—Indianapolis News.

BASEBALL, NOT A BOMB, FOUND IN PACKAGE

Some Conscientious Fan Had Returned It to Boston National Club.

Boston, July 12.—A package which came by mail to the office of the Boston National League Baseball club developed a surprise. It was small and square and was carefully wrapped. The office force stood aside while it was gingerly opened, some one having suggested it might be a bomb. Instead it contained a ball, apparently one that had been hit into the grandstand or bleachers and was being returned by a conscientious fan. The sender gave no name or address.

STOWE

Mrs. H. S. Mathews Died Monday After a Long Illness.

Eva (Martin Post), wife of H. S. Mathews, died Monday morning at 3 o'clock, after a long illness of cancerous trouble. She was born at Iraaburg Sept. 4, 1874, and was the daughter of Angie Martin and Albert B. Post. She spent her entire life in Iraaburg until her marriage to H. S. Mathews Jan. 31, 1900. They moved to Morrisville, where they resided for 14 years and since then have lived in Stowe. She is survived by her husband, H. S. Mathews, two children, Catherine, 17 years of age, and Howard, 10 years of age; her father, A. B. Post of Newport; one sister, Mrs. A. M. Clough of Iraaburg. Mrs. Mathews had been ill since September and in poor health for some time before then. She bore her suffering with patience, was a kind neighbor, had a genial disposition and never seemed to lose interest in the higher ideals of life. She had been a faithful member of the Congregational church since she was 17 years old and was much interested in the Community church of Stowe. She was an active member of Mansfield Mountain grange, P. of H. 274, and had the office of chaplain for two years. A prayer service will be held at the house at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, followed by funeral services at the Community church at 2 o'clock.

At the morning service at Community church Sunday Rev. C. E. Hayward gave a very interesting sermon and gave an instructive story to the children. Mrs. H. W. Barrows sang a solo. There will be a communion service next Sunday morning.

At the meeting of Mansfield Mountain grange Saturday evening children's night was observed. The committee in charge consisted of Mrs. Fred Moulton, Mrs. Grace Van Dusen, Mrs. Mertie Barrows and Mrs. F. McCarthy. The hall was prettily decorated with colored lights, ferns and flowers. The program included victrola selections, recitation by Bernice Smith; dialogue, Doris and Anson Moulton; tableaux, "Friends," by three Record children; vocal solo, Nellie George; recitation, Ray Martin; dialogue, Ruth Moulton, Viola Smith, Gladys Bennett, Helen, John and Elwood Foster; recitation, Frederick McCarthy; tableaux, "Lullabye Bye Land," Mrs. Fanny Faunce and daughters, Evelyn and Catherine, accompanied with a song by Mrs. Fred McCarthy; recitation, Evelyn Faunce; tableaux, "Hawthorne," Marjory Foster, Vivian Campbell, John Record; recitation, Frederick McCarthy; tableaux, song, Bernice Smith; recitation, Susie Sabin and Catherine Faunce; tableaux, "The Children's Hour," Mrs. Harriet Record and children.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Robinson, who have passed two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Flanagan at Portsmouth, N. H., returned Saturday. They were accompanied by Mrs. Robinson's brother, Buford Oakes of Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Macutchan and Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Burnham and daughter, Betty, motored to Lyndonville Sunday, where they visited Mr. Burnham's mother, Mrs. Laura Burnham, and brother, George A. Burnham, and family.

Miss Brenda Bennett is employed at the Green Mountain inn.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hale of Wilmington, Del., are passing a part of their honeymoon at the home of his father, Walter Hale.

Rev. W. T. Best of Morrisville conducted a service at the Methodist Episcopal church Sunday evening.

Mrs. Eve Burt and Mathias Loven of Oneonta, N. Y., were quietly married at the bride's home Saturday evening by Rev. C. E. Hayward.

Miss Loretta Reed of Enosburg Falls, who has been nursing in town for several weeks, went Saturday to visit friends in Swanton.

Mrs. H. T. Pratt was called recently to Marlboro, Mass., by the serious illness of her mother.

BRAVES MAY REPEAT 1914

Are Going Better Than Any Other National League Club

SAYS PAT MORAN
OF CINCINNATI

"Best Twirling Staff" in League and Batters Who Are Dangerous

Boston, July 12.—The Boston Braves, gaining on New York and Pittsburgh in the pennant race in the National league, have better than an outside chance to repeat their score of 1914, in the opinion of Manager Pat Moran of the Cincinnati club. The Braves have the best pitching staff in the National league, he says, adding that with the batting strength of the team they have the elements to go far in this year's race.

"This is no short spurt of the Boston team," Moran said after his Cincinnati team dropped three straight to Mitchell's tribe. "Mitchell has the best twirlers in the league; five pitchers all in trim and each able to take his turn in the box. The hitting of the regulars is liable to break up a game at any time. Mitchell also has reinforcements for about every position. Any manager so well protected is mighty lucky."

The prediction that Horace Ford, the Braves' second sacker, would be one of the outstanding stars of the game was made by Moran, who credited him with making smooth the Braves' infield.

CABOT

Big Crowd Here for July 4 Celebration.

By 9 a. m. on the morning of July 4 people from all points came in all kinds of conveyances from adjoining towns to witness the street parade which was to take place at 10 a. m. The kiltie band of Barre was on hand and was escorted by Angus Smith and E. C. Gould, marshals of the day, to meet the parade, which consisted of floats, some very prettily adorned, while others were characteristic of what they represented, headed by an auto transformed and decorated to represent the "Titanic," which sank and carried so many lives to a watery grave, followed by finely decorated autos, both unique and comical, consisting of Rogers and Currier's store and A. Bullard's of Lower Cabot, Liberty bell, W. R. C. Merritt's garage, moving pictures, pony cart, conveying a small couple, beside several others. At noon a dinner was served in the new hall by the ladies' club.

At 1:30 sports began, some of which drew prizes. Horseback race by girls, 1st, Frances Malmquist; 2d, Olive Smith; boys' race on horseback, 1st, Fred Smith; 2d, Edwin Smith; boys' wheelbarrow race, 1st, Maurice Wheeler; second, Murdo Smith; girls' wheelbarrow race, 1st, Agnes Bennett; 2d, Bernice McCarthy; ministers' race, 1st, Rev. F. L. Stacy; 2d, Rev. Mr. Hill; 3d, Rev. Mr. Brotherton; tug-of-war by kilties and Cabots. Cabots winning. Two others were not reported. Worthy of mention was the tug-of-war by small boys, who showed much energy, grit and strength, as well as the "don't give up" but "hang on." The kiltie band was well enjoyed by all, being a rarity which many had never heard, the bass drummer attracting much attention. In the evening an outdoor concert by the band was highly enjoyed.

A daughter was born at Barre City hospital to Mr. and Mrs. George Currier of Cabot July 8.

Dean Batchelder of New York was a business visitor in town over the Fourth.

Vendall Hickie was in Topsham recently, where he purchased two thoroughbred Guernsey cows of J. K. White.

W. B. Luce and family of Plainfield were in town to attend the Cabot celebration.

Elmer Stevens is recovering from a severe attack of measles.

Mrs. Pearl Clough of Randolph is visiting at L. J. Clough's.

One of the most welcome showers visited this section Friday afternoon, accompanied by hail and vivid lightning. No damage was done by the hail. Streams which had become entirely dry were raised quite a little, which will be a great help to those who have been without water. The oldest inhabitants never witnessed such a scarcity of water as at this season.

Thermometers have gone the highest they have been known to go before.

READ WHAT EDWARD N. HURLEY SAYS ABOUT GETTING YOUR MONEY'S WORTH

(He was Chairman of the Federal Trade Commission)

The bargain hunter who spends a whole day trying to save a quarter on a dollar purchase does not show a sense of values; neither does anyone who buys something simply because it is cheap. A rich young woman may pay three times what an article is worth, because she had so much money that she has never learned what money is. But, on the other hand, a very poor girl may be equally extravagant in buying a shoddy thing rather than waiting a week to buy a better article. She does not know what money is because she never has had any. Neither of them has the ability to get her money's worth.

ORANGE COUNTY FARM BUREAU

Notes for Week Ending July 9.

The Granite Heights Cow Testing association began operation Tuesday of this week, with Berthold C. Coburn as tester. There are yet a few vacancies to be filled in this association. Anyone wishing to join should get in touch with Dr. C. J. Bailey of Williamstown, secretary of the club.

Miss Freda Randall, the newly appointed home demonstration agent for Orange county, arrived at the farm bureau office on Thursday to take up her duties. Miss Randall is very anxious to get in touch with the leaders from the several communities in the county and would appreciate letters or phone calls from anyone interested in her work.

The Chelsea Branch Farmers' club met on Thursday evening at Mrs. Horace Walker's. A children's program was given and enjoyed by the large number who were present. Miss Randall and Miss Pierpont, who were present spoke on the plans of the home economics department of the farm bureau. The county agent gave a short talk on diseases of potatoes and exhibited specimens of diseased plants.

On Friday the East Corinth Boys' and Girls' Home Project club held its annual field day and picnic. There was a good attendance of the club and the local leaders. E. L. Ingalls, state boys' and girls' club leader, Miss Pierpont, Miss Randall and the county agent were also present.

On Saturday afternoon, with the assistance of E. L. Ingalls, a Jersey calf club was organized with some of the boys in Chelsea and Tunbridge as members.

During the coming week the county agent will visit a number of the potato growers and assist in roguing out the diseased plants in the fields.

Miss Randall will endeavor to meet with the local leader in as many communities as possible and acquaint herself with the local conditions and needs.

H. A. Dwinell, county agent.

TUNBRIDGE

Charles B. Smith seems somewhat improved of his serious illness.

The copious rain of the past few days has interrupted haying operations, but joggled along all vegetation immensely.

Mr. and Mrs. John Tucker of Barre and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Tucker of Washington visited Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Blake Sunday.

Fred Raymond has sold his farm, known as the Ora Goodale farm, to parties from Fall River, Mass. It is also reported that E. Thelgen Roberts has disposed of his farm on the spring road.
